

Project Profile

Port of Oakland Intermodal System Oakland, Ca.

In 1991 the Port of Oakland underwent one of the most complex and thorough redesigns of any ship and rail intermodal systems in the U.S. The Multi Million dollar project took 5 years to complete.

The project involved new construction as well as renovation to existing facilities and structures.

Scope of Project

- ◆ 10 New Cranes & Lifts
- ◆ Track Extensions
- ◆ Conex Storage Sites
- ◆ Electric Distribution
- ◆ Terminal Hubs
- ◆ New Security Systems
- ◆ New Guard Houses
- ◆ Multi-Level Trestles
- ◆ New Wastewater Systems

